

Theatre Appreciation Week 5 Assignments: 2/5-2/9

Hi all,

You know the drill. Do the assignments and have the quiz turned in by 11:59pm on Friday. Also, we're reading a play this semester specifically because it is being done at UNG and the theatre department (The Crucible). This is an opportunity to read a play and see it live. I am not requiring a play response for this The Crucible, but if you go see the play at Gainesville Theatre Alliance (on the Oakwood campus) and write a response it is an excellent opportunity for extra credit. Call the box office and mention you are in Theatre Appreciation and ask for the $5 student tickets. The play runs Feb 16th-24th. We'll be reading the play AFTER the run so we don't spoil anything if you don't know it.

This week we'll be reading a play called "Proof" by David Auburn. It won the pulitzer prize for drama, and is a good example of a contemporary straight play. More on this next week after you read. Also, the lecture will be posted by Tuesday night. It will be short, 5-10 minutes.

Assignments:

1. Watch my short lecture video.
2. Read chapter 5 in Theatre: A Way of Seeing
3. Read the Play, Proof by David Auburn (posted on D2L)
4. Take the quiz on the lecture, chapter, and play on D2L for week 5.

Thanks!

David Sterritt
